Watercolor Art Class
"You Can Paint This" with Bill Duke
Wed., November 20, 2019 from 9:30 am – 12:30 pm

Our watercolor art class usually takes place on the 4th Wednesday of the month, and in November that would end up being the day before Thanksgiving, which would be an inconvenient time for some people. So, we will have our November class on Wednesday, November 20, 2019. We will not be having a class in the month of December and we will start up again in January 2020. You can learn how to paint a lovely watercolor scene with no previous painting experience. Come join us! Sign up by calling 978-462-8114. Cost: $20.00 (materials are supplied).

Attention Knitters!

We have yarn that has been donated to our Senior Center if you’d like to come in and browse!

The Friends of the Newbury COA Needs You
The Board of Directors of the Friends of the Newbury Council on Aging voted at their recent meeting in September to change the time of the board meetings. The FNCOA will now meet on the last Tuesday of the month from 7:15 AM to 8:15 AM. (Please call the COA at 978-462-8114 to confirm).

The FNCOA Board of Directors is seeking new members to fill open positions on the board, most urgent of which is Treasurer. If you are interested in helping the FNCOA, please contact Debra Kennedy, President, by email at dakennedy@comcast.net. You may also contact the COA office at 978-462-8114 for additional information.
A Note from the Newbury Council on Aging Board of Directors

The Town of Newbury Council on Aging Board of Directors, with support from The Friends of the Newbury COA, has been happy to facilitate three free informational presentations in 2019 related to senior needs, but available to all in our community. Presentations were held at the Newbury Town Library. Topics were:

*April 24, 2019: “Early Alzheimer’s, Normal Aging, & the Neuroscience of Brain Health” presented by Dr. Karen Postal.

*June 19, 2019: “Better Balance and Fall Prevention”, presented by Ms. Marie Lucey, PT, GCSS & Mr. Andrew Walker, BS, ACE-CPT, Center for Balance, Mobility, and Wellness at Gordon College.

*September 19, 2019: “Nutrition and Healthy Aging” presented by Ms. Leigh Hartwell, Registered Dietitian, Meals on Wheels Program, and Ms. Susan Poludniak, Healthy Living Program Manager & Registered Dietitian. Both speakers are with Elder Services of the Merrimack Valley. These speakers were joined by Ms. Susan Bocuzzo & Ms. Jane Merrow, founders of the Newbury Food Pantry at the First Parish Church of Newbury.

All programs can be viewed on the Town of Newbury Channel. We welcome feedback on these events and strongly urge you to submit suggestions/requests for future events by either phoning 978-462-8114, or by email to: coa@townofnewbury.org.

N.E.E.T. (Northern Essex Elder Transport)

This program provides rides for elders to medical appointments. Arrangements should be made at least 3 business days in advance by calling the COA office at 978-462-8114 (we are closed on Fridays). Once the ride is arranged, the volunteer NEET driver will call you the day before the ride. A donation of $.43 cents per mile is suggested to help support the program, but no one is turned down due to an inability to pay. Reservations must be made through the COA and clients should not call the drivers directly. Also, we have been receiving many requests from clients for doctors’ appointments going to Peabody, Danvers, Burlington and Boston. A lot of our drivers prefer not to travel that far, so we are in need of drivers willing to drive longer distances. Call us if you are interested in becoming a NEET driver.

PREPARE TO CARE
A Planning Guide for Families

This is just a portion of the Prepare to Care info from AARP.org:

10 Tips on How to Approach a Difficult Topic

The reality is that some conversations are just plain difficult—even with the people to whom you feel the closest. When preparing to discuss a difficult topic, it helps to follow the ground rules below to ensure that everyone’s feelings are respected and viewpoints are heard. To help make the conversation as productive and positive as possible:

1. Try not to approach the conversation with preconceived ideas about what your loved ones might say or how they might react. “Dad, I just wanted to have a talk about what you want. Let’s just start with what is important to you.”

2. Approach the conversation with an attitude of listening not telling. “Dad, have you thought about what you want to do if you needed more help?” as opposed to “We really need to talk about a plan if you get sick.”

3. Make references to yourself and your own thoughts about what you want for the future. Let them know that they are not alone; that everyone will have to make these decisions. “Look, I know this isn’t fun to think about or talk about, but I really want to know what’s important to you. I’m going to do the same thing for myself.”

4. Be very straightforward with the facts. Do not hide negative information, but also be sure to acknowledge and build on family strengths. “As time goes on, it might be difficult to stay in this house because of all the stairs, but you have other options. Let’s talk about what those might be.”

5. Phrase your concerns as questions, letting your loved ones draw conclusions and make the choices. “Mom, do you think you might want a hand with some of the housekeeping or shopping?”

6. Give your loved ones room to get angry or upset, but address these feelings calmly. “I understand all this is really hard to talk about. It is upsetting for me, too. But it’s important for all of us to discuss.”

7. Leave the conversation open. It’s okay to continue the conversation at another time.

“Dad, it’s okay if we talk about this more later. I just wanted you to start thinking about how you would handle some of these things.”

8. Make sure everyone is heard—especially those family members who might be afraid to tell you what they think. “Susan, I know this is really hard for you. What do you think about what we are suggesting?”

9. End the conversation on a positive note: “This is a hard conversation for both of us, but I really appreciate you having it.”

10. Plan something relaxing or fun after the conversation to remind everyone why you enjoy being a family. Go out to dinner, attend services together, or watch a favorite TV program. These are just a few suggestions of things you, your loved ones, and other family members can do to unwind after a difficult conversation.

COA DONATIONS

Thanks to John Ferrara, Priscilla Morse, Joe Murphy, Leslie Scanlon and Joan Taves for donating items to our Senior Center.

New PenPal Program
Don’t Let the Art of Letter Writing Disappear!

The Newbury Elementary school is looking for your help to make sure this doesn’t happen!

We are seeking 18 Senior volunteers to be matched with elementary school students. Once paired with an elementary student, you will be able to meet and share refreshments at a Meet & Greet. Throughout the remainder of the school year, you and your PenPal will write about one letter per month to each other. This is a great opportunity to connect with and support children in our community, while helping to build important skills and social development. If you can spare 10-15 minutes a month with this fun and important project, please contact the Newbury COA at 978-462-8114. Thank you for your time and consideration!
